Ann wanted to go over to Ethel's house to play but Ann's mother refused her because she needed to watch over her baby sister Prim. Prim had just learnt to walk and therefore she needed someone to take care of her.

Although Ann requested her mother to let her go to her friend's house to play, Ann's mother refused. She instead instructed Ann to watch over her sister with great care. Ann's mother was tired. She had been watching Prim all day long. "You have to watch Prim because I have to take a bubble bath," Ann's mother said. So she went into the bathroom.

While the mother was enjoying the bubble bath, Ann was busy watching her sister taking all the clothes out of every drawer in the room. She watched her take all the rice, salt, flour, sugar and coffee out of the kitchen cupboard and spill it all on the nice clean floor. She also watched her pull the table cloth off the kitchen table. The bananas that had been on the table landed on Prim's head.

Ann watched Prim crying very loudly attracting the mother to get out of the bathroom. "What is going on?" she asked Ann angrily, "I told you to watch

Prim!" Ann replied truthfully, "Mummy, I was watching her all the time because that's what you told me to do."

54. Read the poem below and answer the questions in full sentences.

Travelling is a good thing,

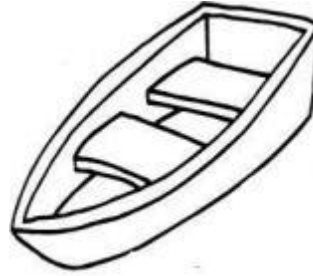

Whether by water,

By road or by air,

There is plenty to see,

Gardens and plantations,

Islands and animals.

Passengers from all over the world,

With or without Luggage,

Pupils on their way to school,

Patients on their way to clinics,

Tourist on their way to the zoo,

And holiday makers of all races.

Travelling by train is fun,

As the engine pulls along "snake"

Wagons getting faster down the valley,

As passengers see the beautiful landscape,
As they share experiences,
With the different people they meet.
