P.O.BUNDIBUGYO

2nd November, 2005

Dear Patel,

Thank you for your letter which was full of news. It is quite interesting to note that India too has a Universal Primary Education system.

In your letter you wanted answers to a number of questions concerning our Universal Primary Education (UPE) in short. First, you asked about the number of children that have benefited from UPE system. Well, the number of primary school-going children has increased suddenly from around two million in 1997 to about seven million in 2005. My country shall soon boast of a literate population.

Secondly, you wanted to know the attitude of my people towards the girl child. You know, before UPE was introduced, most Ugandans believed that girls were expected to do nothing else but to remain at home to do all types of work. Funny enough, even girls and women had this same view about themselves. The girls could be married - off at quite an early age. Imagine, a girl of thirteen years of age being proposed for marriage!

Well, my dear Patel, things are now different. The girls are reading hard and many of them have reached high levels of education and have been appointed to top jobs in the country. We for example, have over a dozen women holding high posts in government. These women in my country.

It is my hope that I have answered your questions. Please let me know in your next letter something about your secondary education system. Once more, thank you for writing. Please extend my best greetings to your family. Yours sincerely,

Happy are John and Mary,

They have never touched a broom or a hoe: On week days my uncle drives them to school,

On weekends they spend their time playing.

I, a poor herds boy, will never go to school,

My uncle says education is not for the orphans,

John and Mary say I am illiterate,

I cannot discuss with them.

Everyday I take animals to graze,
Every night I guard the home;
John and Mary call me a breathing machine,
Which never gets tired.

When a cow gets lost I am whipped,
When animals eat crops I am insulted;
John and Mary say I am useless,
I am not fit to stay at their home.

I am always in fear Fear of the daily
heat of the sun,
Fear of the daily cold at night: Happy are the children of my uncle.
