SECTION B(50 MARKS)

51. Read the passage below and answer questions that follow in full sentences.

When our teacher of science announced that we were to go on an excursion, most of my classmates got thrilled. We had never been to Butembe Stock Farm. We knew very little about this famous farm. Our predecessors, the P.7 candidates of 2020 had given us some scanty information about it.

Some pupils thought that farm work was all boring and a thing of the past, so they did not welcome the idea. Little did they know that the story would be different.

Wednesday was the day before the journey. Our dormitory matron gave us the out-of-school uniform. This put more smiles on our faces. We had not used the uniform since we broke off from school due to COVID 19 lockdown. Early morning the next day, a fleet of four buses parked at the gate area. A few minutes later, Mr. Sukuta Bob, who had announced the tour, instructed us to stand near the buses for each stream.

By nine o'clock in the morning, we had sat on the buses ready for take off. It was interesting to see different tree species of Malobi forest along the way.

At the farm, we were welcomed by Kintu the farm supervisor. He briefed us about the history of the farm. Using the guiding questions Mr. Sukuta had given each of us, we gathered as much information from Kintu as possible. At the end of the brief, we thanked and clapped Kintu for his rich knowledge. He then led us to the cattle dip. We observed some bulls and cows dipping in the acaricide.

"The dip is roofed so that rain water may not dilute the acaricide in there," explained Kintu.

Thereafter we were led to the shelter for cows. Here, dehorning and ear tagging was done. Oh my! We couldn't stand to see poor little things bawl in pain during dehorning and disbudding.

The milking section was full of fun. Some of my friends were filmed while milking cows. It was interesting to see people come to the farm to buy the milk extracted by my friends.

At the end of the day, we had learnt how to care for animals and how to do animal keeping. We of all felt happy afterwards. Even those who had despised farming picked a lot of interest that day. "In future, I shall work hard and own a big farm," said Julie.
