SECTION B: 50 MARKS

Questions 51 to 55 carry ten marks each

51. Read the passage below and then answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

It all began in 2014 when I graduated from Makerere University as an Electronic Engineer. I got a fiancé who proposed to marry me. His name was Patrick .I got to know him from our local church. He was an accountant at Centenary Bank.

When I accepted Patrick's marriage proposal, he asked me to introduce to my parents. The news was exciting. I shared it with my parents right away. My parents welcomed the idea and requested Patrick to hold the introduction ceremony soon. We fixed the date for our introduction on Saturday 15th Nov 2014.

On the set date, Patrick, his friends and his relatives came to my parents' home for the introduction ceremony. The function began at twelve noon and the master-of-ceremonies was Mr. Baguta .As soon as the guests settled down, he read the programme to them and followed it strictly.

It was my big day, I was called to introduce my fiancé to the gathering. The matron, my sisters and friends accompanied me. Slowly, I moved to where my fiancé had sat and introduced him to my people. Drums beat to the loudest and dancers danced to their best.

In that jovial mood, Patrick's group brought in the gifts for my parents. Among them, were two cows and three goats as the bride price. Impressed by Patrick's commitment, my parents accepted him to become their son-in-law. They advised him to organize a religious marriage which he accepted to do.

Our wedding was on 6th Dec, 2014 .That day bridal cars came very early in the morning to take us to the salon. After the salon, we went straight to St. Joseph's Church for the wedding ceremony.

At exactly 2:p.m, Rev. Joseph Kimbugwe joined us in holy matrimony and presented the marriage certificate to us. We took the photographs with our relatives before leaving church. The function ended with a reception at Hotel Barok Lovers. It was a great day because all guests had enough food and drinks.
