I come from a very big family deep in Bukunja. We stay with almost all our relatives. Our grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Zangerwa are still alive and we stay with them as well. Recently, Dad's sister, Ndibassa, came with her three daughters who are now staying with us.

Three days later, my nephew joined us too. I now study with him in the same class at Kiyoola Primary School. It really feels good to have such a big family. We are always happy and work together as a family. Father promised to invite other relatives to start living with us. He surely loves unity amongst his family. I know I am two-legged,
And my friend is four-legged,

Who people say is more important!

He takes people to various places,
I've never failed to do the same,
He carries their luggage
I also have my carrier
But they say he is more important!

When you become rich, you put me a side,
You start moving with my friend and forget me,
Without his daily food, he can't help you,
In narrow paths, its only me.
When will you see my great importance?
