51. Read the passage below and answer in full sentences the questions that follow.

"Get readyRoll the camera!" said Ms. Mukobe Jane Frances, our teacher of English. We were getting ready for the programme in the studio since I was the main camera operator.

All was set for the Academic Exhibition at school that weekend. Each of the classes chose a topic for exhibition. My class, Primary Seven chose Electronic Media. This was going to help us learn practically about studio presentation. During the rehearsals, selected pupils in my class were assigned different roles. First was Mariah, the producer. She ensured that all programmes in the studio were aired as planned. Next was Michelle, my friend. She was the sound manager. Her duty was to ensure that microphones and headsets needed in the studio were available. She also made sure that sound transmission cables were properly fixed. Then Natalie, the studio technician was very good at her job. She ensured that the videos, pictures and events from the reporters were cast to the TV screens live.

Ms. Jane Frances also selected some girls to be presenters. Every segment of their shows was interesting. During the talk shows, they hosted several panelists including parents, guests and school staff. The news reporters, clad in their pink and black outfit, spread to different exhibition tents and stalls. They reported events and interviewed a good number of exhibitors.

All the programmes that day were uploaded to online channels like YouTube and Facebook Live. Parents and guests used a link to access the content on their phones. Thanks to Bridgetta who played the role of digital content manager.

In the end, everyone appreciated our work. In her speech, the chief guest recognised our group as the best exhibitors. The audience clapped us. We received certificates and prizes. The day has remained memorable. A number of my classmates are looking forward to becoming journalists in future, moreso Prospah with whom I sit at the desk.
