SECTION B

51. Read the passage and in full sentences answer the questions that follow:

There are police in Uganda. Their main work is to ensure that there is peace and security in the country. Every morning police officers are deployed to guard important people and buildings, some officers are not stationed in one place. They move to different places looking for wrong doers.

Most Police Officers carry guns with them while on duty. Others carry handcuffs and short heavy sticks called batons. When Police Officers arrest a wrong doer, they put handcuffs around his wrists.

This prevents him from running away once arrested, the suspect is taken to the police station to make a statement. This will be given as a reference in Court. A wrong doer is usually called a suspect until courts of law prove him guilty of the crime.

After preparing a suspect's file, he is produced in court for trial. The suspect is given a chance to defend himself. The suspect is also free to get the services of a Lawyer to defend him.

In most cases, judges or magistrates require witnesses to give evidence. The witnesses are required to tell the Court what they know about the case. After listening to both sides, the judge passes the judgment.

Questions:

a) What is the main work of the police?

b) According to the passage, what do the police guard?

c) What are batons?
