" Candidates, you have to pay the price for your success if you are to achieve your goals in education," said Mr. Kwata Rodgers. This was during the briefing of the SKEB Mock Examination. Having been guided very well by their teachers through revision activities, the pupils felt they were ready for an examination.

Aminu Stella one of the candidates, had not properly understood the Director of Studies' communication. After the briefing, she approached him "Mr. Kwata, what did you exactly mean when you said we should pay the price for our success?" she asked. Mr. Kwata Rodgers, also known as Tr.KR by his pupils, felt concerned. Let's go into my office," he suggested.

He explained to Stella that there were certain things that may seem good in life. But because of something that is very crucial, such good things can be foregone to give time for the achievement of the other one. "For example, you can stop watching television and visiting relatives before you finish your studies," said Mr. Kwata.

During that examination, Stella answered the questions more carefully than she ever did. She hardly crossed her work this time.
